Planters Bank announces 2013 Helping Hands Contest

The 2013 Planters Bank Helping Hands contest will begin on November 1st. This contest is presented each year by Planters Bank, and the contest awards three deserving charities with $2,000 each. Charities can be nominated at any Planters Bank location during the month of November.

“It is easy to nominate your favorite charity.” Randy Randall, COO of Planters Bank stated, “We have ballot boxes with entry forms at all of our offices. Charities must have 501c3 status, and must be located in Bolivar, Humphreys, Leflore, Sunflower or Washington counties. We encourage everyone to stop by their local Planters Bank to enter their favorite charity. We have so many deserving charities in the Mississippi Delta, and this contest is one of our favorite things to do during the Christmas season.”

From the charities nominated, each Planters Bank office will select one charity to be placed on the Planters Bank’s Facebook page on December 1st. Everyone can vote for their favorite charity by visiting the Facebook page or by sending an email to marketing@planters-bank.com. The three charities with the most votes will receive $2,000 each from Planters Bank. The winning charities will be announced on December 20th.

This is the third year for the Helping Hands contest at Planters Bank. In 2012, the winners were the Belzoni Animal Rescue Kennel, Good Samaritan Clinic in Greenville and the Sunflower County Freedom Project.

For complete contest details, visit www.planters-bank.com or call Jamie Murrell at 662 884-1476.

The Sunflower County Library System will sponsor an exhibit from the Smithsonian Institute entitled “The Way We Worked”. The Exhibit will display 150 years of work in America. The exhibit will arrive at the Henry M. Seymour Library November 16, 2013 and be open for the public to view until January 6, 2014. They will also have exhibits of Sunflower County’s contribution to 150 years of work in America through oral histories, presentations, and displays.
